Caitlin Fargher sweet water

25 September - 24 October

In Sweet Water, Caitlin Fargher reimagines what Hadley's was like in the 1800s when the hotel housed a lush garden and inventive pastry shop. The stained glass patterns of an historic leadlight ceiling are mirrored in toffee, poised atop a tall table, inviting us to look up. A three-tiered fountain inhabits the atrium, tiled with the ash of fallen trees and surrounded by a garden of sticky toffee flowers. With its raw, sweet and muddy materials, this art installation speaks of nipaluna/Hobart's past and unearthing the histories that are swept behind the facades while also representing hope for a sustainable and engaged future, a paradise to be.
